

The way in which we listen to the things we love...
 ...has come a very long way

Sennheiser HD800
 Available now from Oxford Audio

Accessory of the year

"With the sort of detail retrieval and accuracy that most loudspeaker manufacturers dream of and stereo imaging that puts most other headphones to shame, the HD800 represents the pinnacle of dynamic headphone design."

Little wonder then that we concluded that the HD800 is the £1,000 headphone that could be your next £25,000 loudspeaker."

"At short first acquaintance I knew these were the best over-ear phones I'd heard."

Keith Howard
 Hi-Fi News,
 October 2009

"Very few loudspeaker designs can come even close to the level of detail resolution offered by the HD800 headphones. Voices and instruments all have exactly the timbre that they do in real life. Sound is simply superb in every way."
